

Dear Jamie,

RE: “Your description of the Control Studies Project.”, 19th of August, 2024<sup>1</sup>

In Sam’s video<sup>2</sup> there is no reference to your “Control Studies Project” being ‘nefarious’ but your behaviour would certainly fall under that description. We have been contacted by several people who forwarded comments and described your attempts to undermine our work on platforms such as Telegram as “repulsive”. Whether you do this on a public or “private” forum is irrelevant to the information reaching us. For the record, we were unaware of these activities until ViroLIEgy’s Mike Stone published “The Hunt” on the 24th of November, 2023.<sup>3</sup>

This puerile behaviour continues and is, in fact, on public display which leaves little doubt that you are still trying to berate our reputations and work:

Your public support of Craig Hutchinson’s defamatory post through your Substack account was disingenuous and can only be interpreted as another attempt to cast aspersions about us and our work.

In June this year you said, “alot [sic] of the reasons for launching this project was to pull this ‘No Virus’ community together.”<sup>4</sup> — Then can you please inform us why you leant support to a delusional story against two well-known individuals in the “no virus” community when there was not one scrap of evidence to back it up? You even acknowledged later it was posted by, “some account called ‘Poisoned Kiwi’ whom I had barely heard of before”.<sup>5</sup>

RE: “I confirmed that they [Dirk Loots] have renounced anything to do with the project (Not that I needed to do that). You never had the common decency of replying.”<sup>6</sup> — To what exactly was I replying? Your initial email to me making this claim was on the 15th of June, 2024<sup>7</sup> and you did not request that I provide a response. In any case, you continued to be associated with Dirk Loots with a presentation about the project published on a platform you share with him on the 22nd of June, 2024.<sup>8</sup> Under the presentation was an invitation to donate money through a link to the “dpl” (Dirk Petrus Loots) Buy Me A Coffee webpage.<sup>9</sup>

You refer to Sam’s video as an “egregious accusation of me and my project”<sup>10</sup> but have failed to identify one sentence in her presentation that is incorrect. We uphold that you and a small group of your associates have acted disingenuously and have presented the evidence.

We do not know how your Substack was blocked if you never made a comment but will be clear to our community that we denounce your activities and are not associated with you in any way.

With regard to the scientific considerations, Sam pointed out in the video that the virologists’ inability to perform valid controls is formally outlined in my essay Virology’s Event Horizon.<sup>11</sup> You may recall that I alerted you to this work previously and your response was, “unfortunately I have not had time to read your book”.<sup>12</sup>
